DALLAS, Texas (October 19, 2009) – SOURCECORP, Incorporated (SOURCECORP), a leading provider of business process outsourcing solutions and specialized high value consulting services, will host an open house on Thursday, October 22, at its new 46,211 square foot facility located at 102 London Shopping Center. The event will begin at 9:30am, welcoming local and state dignitaries as well as clients from across the country.

“SOURCECORP’s Business Process Solutions Division (BPS) opened this new facility earlier in 2009 after extensive renovations were completed within London’s former Walmart facility,” stated Kerry Walbridge, President of SOURCECORP BPS. “Given our large existing employee base and access to additional high quality employees along the I-75 corridor within Laurel County; it makes great business sense for SOURCECORP to extend its 17-year tenure in London with this significant facility expansion.”
